HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION PROCEDURES

Homestead Audit Procedures

SB 1801 Effective 09/01/2023

SB 1801 amends Section 11.43 of the Property Tax Code. Section 11.43(1-h) requires the chief appraiser of an appraisal district to develop a program for the periodic review of each residence homestead exemption granted by the district under Section 11.13 to confirm that the recipient of the exemptions still qualifies to the exemption. The program must require the chief appraiser to review each residence homestead exemption at least once every five tax years. The program may provide for the review to take place in phases, with a portion of the exemptions reviewed in each tax year.

The review will consist of:

- ❖ Verifying an application is on file for the current owner
- ❖ Verifying date of birth entered for owner and spouse
- ❖ Driver's license matches property location

Tracking of homestead audit: School districts will be used to determine which properties will audit every five years. Each year a query will be run to identify the properties in school district with homestead exemptions to be audited.

- ❖ 1st year Darrouzett ISD - 2028
- ❖ 2nd year Follett ISD - 2029
- ❖ 3rd year Booker ISD - 2030
- ❖ 4th year Canadian ISD - 2027
- ❖ The process will start over in 2031

Homestead Over-65 Modification Procedure

If an exemption applicable to a residential property is reduced or cancelled in a year, the appraisal district will send a notice to the property owner. Notices pertaining to homestead exemptions will go out by April 1.

A chief appraiser may not cancel an exemption under Section 11.13 that is received by an individual who is 65 years of age or older without first providing written notice of the cancellation to the individual receiving the exemption.

The notice must include a form on which the individual may indicate whether the individual is qualified to receive the exemption and a self-addressed postage prepaid envelope with instructions for returning the form to the chief appraiser. The chief appraiser shall consider the individual's response on the form in determining whether to continue the exemption.

If the chief appraiser does not receive a response on or before the 60th day after the date the notice is mailed, the chief appraiser may cancel the exemption on or after the 30th day after the expiration of the 60-day period, but only after a reasonable effort to locate the individual and determine whether the individual is qualified to receive the exemption.

An additional notice of cancellation will include, in bold font to or greater in size than the surrounding text, the date on which the chief appraiser is authorized to cancel the exemption to the individual receiving the exemption immediately after the expiration of the 60-day period by first class mail in an envelope on which is written in all capital letters "RETURN SERVICE REQUESTED," or another appropriate statement directing the United States Postal Service to return the notice if it is not deliverable as addressed, or providing the additional notice in another manner that the chief appraiser determines is appropriate, constitutes a reasonable effort on the part of the chief appraiser. This does not apply to an exemption for an Individual 65 years of age or older that is canceled because the chief appraiser determines the individual receiving the exemption no longer owns the property subject to the exemption.

Homestead Exemptions in General

A homeowner may not receive more than one residential homestead exemption per year. Homestead applications must be sworn and state that the owner has only one residence homestead exemption and the percentage interest of each owner. A property owner who acquires property after January 1 may receive the residence homestead exemption for the applicable portion of the tax year immediately on qualification of the exemption, if the previous owner did not receive the same exemption for the tax year.

A property owner who files for a homestead exemption and has completed the field for date of birth and turns 65 in the following year, does not need to re-apply the following year.

The effect of partial ownership of an exempt property is clarified to require the exemption amount be multiplied by the owner's percentage of value of the property. Applications for a residence that is not 100% complete must be held until an appraiser field checks the property and records the percent complete in the property record.

Applications that fail to meet the qualifications as set out in the property tax code will be notified and see if information can be provided to correct the application.

Lipscomb CAD sends out Residence Homestead Applications whenever the ownership change is made. Each year Lipscomb CAD also sends out Residence Homestead Applications to all properties that have a location and the same mailing address but do not have a homestead exemption.

Applications can be received by mail, via e-mail or at the appraisal office. Any request for a copy of an exemption must have social security numbers and driver's license numbers redacted prior to release.

Homestead Exemptions for Manufactured Homes

To receive a residence homestead exemption for a mobile home, the application must be accompanied by a copy of the Statement of Ownership and location showing that the applicant is the owner of the manufactured home. The application must be accompanied by a verified copy of the purchase contract showing that the applicant is the purchaser of the manufactured home.

The owner of land on which the mobile home sits that qualifies as a residence homestead is entitled to receive the homestead exemption and any other benefit granted to the owner of the mobile home regardless of whether the applicant has elected to treat the manufactured home as real property or personal property and regardless of whether the manufactured home is listed on the tax rolls with real property to which it is attached or listed separately.
